

UltraLight WebGear

Our newest webgear incorporates the simplest strategy for pockets...both large pouches are identical and can be used for your shelter or water bottles. They both have shelter ejector straps and back slots for 4 flares. They fit the new, larger shelter and can be placed where convenient on the padded harness belt. The back pouch incorporates a 100 oz bladder system has internal pockets and attaches with 4 clips. The 3.25" padded shoulder straps have a chest strap to keep them where they belong. Materials are in spec for CDF.

Packster Sr. (Large Deployment Bag)

What a Large "Red Bag" Could Be . . .

Our Packster Sr. has a comfortable backpack harness hidden in a back pouch, 2 removable inside dividers and 2 end pockets. We use the ALICE system to mount accessories to accommodate the many add-on pouches available everywhere. 29"Lx9"Hx15"W

CrewDog Gear Bag

Versatile TO Bag for the CrewDog who's always available

When they ask at the roadblock if you think you're going to a fire, just point to the bag and say...Yup! This TO bag is 29" long by 15"Dx17"H to hold your gear internally. 1000 denier Cordura nylon makes up the "tougher than canvas" shell, heavy duty nylon webbing forms the handles and the zippers are #10, (of course). A leather ID pocket, handle grip and a huge valuables pocket on the side round out the picture. Oh yeah, if you don't want the big side print, we'll make it plain too.
